

Tempus PQPharm Networking Event: Joint Programmes Board, London November 21st - 22nd, 2011

Network event was held at the Joint Programmes Board (JPB) on November, 21st with the participation of the representatives of academic staff from the University of Belgrade, University of Niš, University of Novi Sad, Pharmaceutical Chamber of Serbia, Chamber of Biochemists of Serbia, Pharmaceutical Association of Serbia, Society of Medical Biochemists of Serbia, Hospital pharmacists of Serbia, Pharmacy "Belgrade".

The consortium partners, School of Pharmacy London and JPB, shared their ideas and experiences on the current trends in postgraduate education in pharmacy, and how these changes in the education influence the professional practice and pharmaceutical care. Ongoing activities were focused on the different methods that can be used to assess the performance of pharmacists. Senior practitioners gave their view how, as a practitioner, a pharmacist can achieve relevant competences.

Programme

09.30 Introductions and welcome (prof. John Graham Davies)

09.40 Developing the profession: Defining leadership in professional education in global and local contexts (prof. Ian Bates)

10.10 The current state of the art: Clinical pharmacy and the new practice models

Coffee and networking

11.00 The JPB Model: Developing practitioners fit for the future (prof. John Graham Davies)

11.30 The heart of the system: new learning environments and workforce development

12.00 A perspective from an Employer: Leadership is key

12.30 Questions and discussions

Followed by Lunch

13.30 Assessing for need: Competence and performance as drivers for learning

14.00 Moving on to Advanced levels of practice

14.30 Questions and discussions with the JPB team

15.00 Visit to University College Hospital NHS Trust to meet with senior practitioners and practice educators

Visit to University College Hospital NHS Trust to meet with senior practitioners

Visit to School of Pharmacy, University of London (Dr Mire Zloh - Senior Lecturer in Structural Chemistry)

Visit of Serbian delegates to Royal Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain (Lindsey Gilpin - Chair English Pharmacy Board)